

BMC RC championships and seventh in the Clubmans Championship at Donington Park in the North of England.

His second season started this month and Simon has already come second in two races at Snetterton.

Last year Simon bought a £3,500 Suzuki GSX/R 750 cc bike and has spent £1,000

Racing is an expensive business, into which he has already sunk a year's salary and most of his savings.

Competition fees alone cost around £200 a month and Simon is also trying to raise the money to buy a van to get him to the meetings.

He works as a motor cycle mechanic and his firm, D M to a national licence and I hope to make a name for myself and get into the national league.

"It is very expensive, however, and I am hoping that perhaps locally companies would consider sponsoring me."

Anyone interested in helping Simon can contact him after 8pm on SW 23791.

Alice's pet teacher?

A photograph taken around 1930 of children at Hempstead Village School. In the back row from left to right are Phyllis Johnson, Alice Gibbs, Maisie Foster, Louise Wright, Sylvia Lashmere, Louise Andrews, John Blackmore, Raymond Purkiss, Elsie Andrews and Alice's sister, Doris. Although this photograph was taken over 50 years ago Miss Foster remembered the names of all her past pupils.

WHEN Alice Iddenden was a little girl well over half a century ago she may not have been her teacher's pet, she reckons.

Miss Foster, aged 84, who went on to become a teacher at the former Boys' British School in Saffron Walden, remembers the young Alice and her tears very well.

Miss Foster, whose family came from Great Sampford, also remembers the treats.

"The treats were held annually on Ascension Day. The children went to church in the morning and my
